

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF MORGAN COUNTY

STATE OF GEORGIA

IN RE: Pro Se Litigants in Domestic Relation Matters
Involving Child Support

GENERAL ORDER

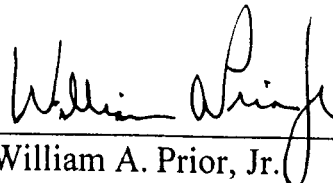

Be advised that effective January 1, 2007, the law in Georgia changed concerning child support guidelines. This law is codified as O.C.G.A. §19-6-15. The result of this change is that the process to calculate child support is extremely difficult and confusing.

The Clerk will hand you general information about the child support guidelines which are effective January 1, 2007. The Clerk is not authorized to answer questions about the law for you. It is your responsibility to comply with the requirements of the new statute. The Court strongly urges that you obtain assistance from an attorney in regard to any questions that you may have about this law. If you proceed without an attorney, you may not be able to obtain a final decree or final order. The Superior Court Judges in this Circuit will not calculate the child support amount for you and the court costs for filing are not refundable.

The law requires that you submit to the Court child support worksheets. If these worksheets are not properly filed, when you get to court, in all likelihood, your case will be continued and removed from the calendar.

DO NOT REQUEST ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FROM THE CLERK REGARDING O.C.G.A. §19-6-15.

This 10th day of January, 2007.
